Preparedness Summit Summary

As part of a collaborative effort between Montgomery APC and Tarrant County, TX APC, the APCs presented "Using Computer Models to Plan for the HINI Fall Event and Other Health Events" at the Public Health Preparedness Summit in February in Atlanta. Rachel Abbey, Program Manager for Montgomery APC and Bill Stephens, Program Manager for Tarrant County, APC along with Dr. Jeffrey Herrmann from the University of Maryland, walked public health planners through several planning scenarios utilizing computer models, including a real event Hepatitis A vaccination involving the Tarrant County Advanced Practice Center (TX). The session helped planners become more familiar with the computer models and demonstrated how they can be effective in planning for a public health emergency. Montgomery County's Plan 9 Campaign utilized in Utah. Michael Stever, Emergency Manager for the Utah Department of Health presented at the Preparedness Summit on "Collaboration in Preparedness Planning for the At-Risk Population". Plan 9, among other materials, was presented as a solution for collecting the essential items for an emergency kit. Check out the article and presentation materials here.
